Section 501(c)(7) of the Code exempts from Federal income tax clubs organized and operated exclusively for pleasure, recreation, and other nonprofitable purposes, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder. In general, exemption from Federal income tax under this section encompasses social and recreational clubs which are supported solely by membership fees, dues and assessments.

Effective for taxable years beginning after October 20, 1976, Pub. L. 94-508 amended the requirements for tax exemption for social clubs and similar organizations. One of the changes is that "substantially all" of such an organization's activities must be for pleasure, recreation, and other nonprofitable purposes. This change, from the previous "exclusively", permits an organization to earn income from nonmember sources to a limited extent and to have a limited amount of investment income (both types of income being subject to tax) without losing its general exemption from Federal income tax. An exempt social club is permitted to receive up to 15 percent of its gross receipts from a combination of investment income and receipts from nonmembers so long as the latter do not represent more than 15 percent of total receipts.

Revenue Ruling 56-475, 1956-2, C.B. 303 concluded that an organization formed to promote interest in stock cars is not exempt if it conducts races and part of the proceeds from public admissions is distributed to member participants. This ruling supported its finding on the basis that distributions of gains to these members who either won or placed in the races clearly constituted inurement to members and that this runs contrary to the exemption provided in section 501(c)(7) of clubs organized and operated exclusively for pleasure, recreation, and other nonprofitable purposes.

Revenue Ruling 66-149, C.B. 1966-1, page 147 states, in part: "The statute contemplates that clubs falling within the ambit of section 501(c)(7) of the Code are designed primarily to provide for the pleasure and recreation of members. The activities may be supported by funds donated from members, such as dues, assessment and payment for the use of club facilities, however to the extent that income is derived from nonmember sources, it must be to the benefit of the members. If such activities are mere incidental, trivial, or nonexistent, it is deemed that they are not related to pleasure income and are reflective of a purpose inconsistent with exemption under section 501(c)(7) of the Code."

The purpose of this letter is to advise you that you operate in a manner which is similar to the organization cited in Revenue Ruling 56-475. Your organization's activities for the benefit of members and nonmembers constitute inurement to members as well as other private interests. Moreover, the percentage of the organization's income on receipts from nonmembers is well over the limit specified in Public Law 94-508 and is reflective of a purpose inconsistent with exemption under section 501(c)(7).

Accordingly, we hold that you are not entitled to recognition of exemption from Federal income tax under section 501(a)(7) of the Internal Revenue Code. You are required to file Federal income tax returns on Form 1120 for each year you have been in existence.

We are not ruling on your qualification for exemption under any related paragraph of Internal Revenue Code 501(a).

If you accept our findings, you do not need to take further action.

Your request for a conference should include a written appeal giving the facts, law, and any other information to support your position as explained in the enclosed Publication 892. You will then be contacted to arrange a date for a conference. The conference may be held at our Regional office or, if you request, at any mutually convenient District office.

If we do not hear from you within 30 days from the date of this letter, this ruling will become final. If you have any questions, please contact the person whose name and telephone number are shown above.

Sincerely yours,
